Dream

This night I had a dream;
A dream filled with female companions,
all shades of feminity.
One laughing on my back,
one scared in my arms,
one directing and
one pompously sitting on the toilet.
I remember the loss of a loved one,
the one in my arms.
The craziness loss can bring.
l remember the love,
the fragility, the togetherness,
more love l remember.
All resonances of love.
