

Logic

Logic

Real Logic encompasses the soul.

It is akin to “logica” used at universities, but much more so.

It is also the way of the “Logos”,
the reasoning with soul,
the way back to inner contact.

It circumpherer what cannot be taught, but has to be allowed to being found.

It fills the mind to the brim,
in order to overflow.

It is like muscle cramp, which releases after full surrender and relaxes back to natural state.

Our Western minds need to be restuffed with this real knowledge, in order to be,
to be again and again and again.

It adds dynamics to froozenness and follows inner movements and inner logic.

By her nature than, she falls through any given hardness.
