

Rain

Rain

I am a firestarter in the rain.

All's wet, difficult to ignite.

I look for dry places,

some cover of sorts.

Friends huddle below roofs,

should I not leave,

should I not stay,

in this weather?

There's dry places always,

every where there are.

It is just a question of mass,

mass of rain versus,

mass of fire,

and a roof.

I am small, without body,

I need to gather weight;

How about I ignite myself?

Air and light, BREATHE!

Evaporate moist,

become lighter,

become less,

allow sun,

allow fire!!

I only know one roof.
