

Smile

Smiles

I look at myself in the mirror.

I smile much too less.

Please let me see your smile

behind all this worry?

I frown and tension too much,

but it does not work.

Please let me discover smile

behind all these faces,

behind all troubled people,

so I can learn from You.

I mimic smile to lure You to smile back at me.

Acid attracts acid,

Light attracts light,

Smile draws smile.

I look for smiles

behind social curtains.

Let me be good company!

I just mimic to learn,

like any artist starts;

I am a just student of

Your hidden smiles.

05 05 2014