

Wind

Wind

I am like the wind that caresses you.

When you sleep I am this summerwind,

softly stroking your body, to remind.

In winter I am a warm air blanket,

cushening you to resting and ease,

just to light you up more.

I am your complement, other half.

When you light up, I provide oxygen.

When you dim, I breathe air.

When you sleep, I am present.

I am your shelter and lover,

always there and attentive,

I am everywhere around you.

I am your home.
